

ANDREAS LORENSCHAT TOWER

Andreas Lorenschat in front of the the Andreas Lorenschat Tower

description

The video shows a watching tower. Every three minutes the platform goes up and after a few circles it disappears again.

artist comment

In it's astetic the most important aspect for the production of the video was to imitate directly the look of Andreas Lorenschat works of recent years. It is an ironical comment on the existence of The Artist's Handwriting.

original title:

ANDREAS LORENSCHAT TURM,
HELSINKI, 2006

videography for flatscreen or backprojection
HDTV, loop, color, no sound
© Matthias Fritsch, 2006

presentation

The videography must resemble classical photography. It should be presented on a high definition flatscreen or a simple backprojection.

technical requirements

projector or HD-flatscreen controlled by a computer or HD DVD player
original resolution: 2816x2112 pixels

installation view, labsituation after developing the work, exhibition in summer academy of the Studienstiftung des deutschen Volkes, Görlitz, 2006